

'Red D always plays the right record at the right time.' That is what Kerri Chandler said when asked how to describe his Belgian friend. Red D has been DJ'ing for as long as he himself can remember and he feels just as much at ease playing allnighters by himself as he does going back to back with revered tastemaker Lefto or with the aforementioned Kerri Chandler on keyboards and Belgium's finest singer Lady Linn next to him.

The knowledge from the past feeds the present and takes things into the future. That is how Red D treats his DJ'ing and A&R duties for his We Play House Recordings label, which has been a steady source for quality house music well over 10 years now. Helping launch the career of his friend San Soda - with whom he forms the acclaimed FCL outfit - the label has been a home for a diverse range of house luminaries including Kai Alc e, Reggie Dokes, Kiani & His Legion, Russ

Gabriel and many many more.

Red D's love for all things Detroit, New York and Chicago will be reflected in the new WPH U.S. Series that is coming in the fall of 2019, with Reggie Dokes & Red D's joint project RD² to kick off the series. Next to that there is also Club Belgique, the project that brings the legendary Belgian club sound of the 80's & 90's to new ears through theme nights and a new label by the same name on which Red D and San Soda get into their Max Erotic and Nick Berlin guises to bring you new tracks inspired by that hedonistic Belgian era.

As if that was not enough Red D is also cooking up his very own outlet called Red Basics. A label to exclusively release his own music - influenced by anything and everything - that will be distributed by Brussels' very own stronghold Crevette Distribution. Expect the first release by the end of this year!
